

Training Plan

This is your guide to help you prepare to run or walk in the Live Well San Diego 5K on September 17, 2023. Start your training no later than August 14 as each step is designed to slowly increase the amount of exercise you do each week. Just add the number of suggested miles, steps, or exercise time to what you already do each day and you'll be ready to go from couch to 5K by race day. No matter how you track your exercise, we'll help you get there!
